

Dear Husband of Daughters of Sarah® Facilitator –

It is with great thankfulness that I send this on behalf of our ministry, Greater Impact. Your wife has accepted God’s call as described in Titus 2:3-4, by training up other women via The Respect Dare (Thomas Nelson, 2012), and/or Daughters of Sarah®. We are privileged to support her as she does this by providing training and prayer for her.

Scripture is clear that there are “authorities” in community (Hebrews 13:17), and given that God holds you accountable for your family, and me accountable for our ministry, I’m humbly asking you to join me and our team in covering your wife in prayer daily. She needs your protection as she moves forward in helping other women grow in the Biblical concepts of love, respect, and submission in marriage.

Your family may come under spiritual attack due to the impact she will be making – but we know (as you probably do, too!) that God allows these things to strengthen us in our faith. Please know that our prayer team prays for you and your family. A year from now, may we all look back at the storms we’ve weathered and say, “Look what God did!” and give Him praise together.

I am more than happy to dialog with you via my blog at www.NinaRoesner.com. You may submit questions and prayer requests on our website at www.GreaterImpact.org under the “Contact Us” section.

Many men ask me what they can do specifically to support and encourage their wife moving forward, or what they can do in their churches or neighborhoods for the husbands as their wives go through the courses. We highly recommend the Love Dare (B&H Publishing, 2009) and/or Family Life Ministries’ solid program, Stepping Up. Also our ministry will send you a free PDF of 365 Ways to Love Your Wife (Greater Impact, 2014) which you may distribute to the men in your groups. Email me at ninaroesner@greaterimpact.org to request the file.

Respectfully,
